5. PAYMENTS TO CUSTOMER

(a) You will be entitled to receive payments under this Contract as follows (Payments):

(i) Program Signup Payment: a once-off payment of $5.00 which you become eligible for upon signing up via the Demand Response Product registration page;

(ii) Event Participation Payments: a payment of $5.00 for each Demand Response Event that you participate in (you will be deemed to have participated in an event if you do not opt out of that specific event via the opt out mechanisms available to you);

(iii) Demand Response Payments calculated in accordance with the following procedure:

(A) First, we calculate what's called your historical usage based on your electricity usage. This is how much electricity you would use during the event window on a normal day (for example, assuming there are no extreme weather conditions). We are continually refining the method for calculating your historical usage, so this may change from time to time.

(B) Second, we multiply the historical usage by a variable that caters for specific factors, such as location and temperature, to give an estimate of how much electricity you would have used during the actual event period if you weren't taking part in the Demand Response Event. This is your baseline.

For example: A family typically may use 5kWh per 30 minute interval on a similar day to when a 4 hour Demand Response Event takes place (historical usage = 5kWh per 30 minute interval) . This is taken and multiplied by a factor of 2 to adjust for forecasted higher temperatures during the Demand Response Event to reflect that usage would typically be higher as a result . This gives a baseline of 10kWh per 30 minute interval (5kWh x 2) for the Demand Response Event period.

(C) Third, we determine your actual electricity usage during the period of the Demand Response Event (per 30 minute interval) on the basis of the electricity usage data obtained from your electricity meter.

(D) Finally, we calculate your Demand Response Payment by multiplying the difference between your actual electricity usage and your baseline for each 30 minute interval within the period of the Demand Response Event (rounded to the nearest kWh) by the incentive amount of $2.00 per kWh.

For example: If, during the 4-hour Demand Response Event, you reduce your electricity usage by 1kWh for each of the 30 minute intervals within the 4 hours, you would receive $2.00 multiplied by the 1kWhk reduction for each of the 8 30 minute intervals.

1kWh x 8 (each 30 minute interval) x $2 = $16.00

However, if you only reduced your electricity usage by 1kWh in on 30 minute interval. your Demand Response Payment will be $2,00.

- (iv) Feedback Payments: we may from time to time ask for your feedback, via a post-event survey or otherwise, and you will receive a payment of $5.00 for completing the survey and submitting it to us.
- (b) Where a Demand Response Payment becomes payable to you in accordance with this Contract and the applicable Product Schedule, EnergyAustralia will apply such amount as a credit against your electricity account within 15 Business Days. Such amount will then be deducted from the next invoice issued under your electricity retail contract with EnergyAustralia after the credit has been applied.
- (c) We may, subject providing at least 30 days' prior written notice, vary:
 - (i) any of the Payments that may be payable to you under this Contract; or
 - (ii) the calculation methodology set out in this clause 5.
